

Why do Women Love Baby Hairs?

By Blaire Walk

In the 1920's, the fame of baby hairs became a fashion statement from a beautiful woman named Josephine Baker. She was a famous jazz singer, dancer, and known for her beautiful hair style. Her hairstyle often includes showing off her baby hairs, applying her hair around her edges on the frame of her head in a stylish way. Who would've thought that this style will be around for centuries?

Some people love the baby hairstyle because of the unique look. There's many ways to style your baby hair and there are plenty of tutorials on youtube. This style is iconic and most people cannot leave the house without doing it. Once a simple style for special occasions, doing your baby hair can become a habit. Careful, doing this style often can result in hair loss and balding!
